VOLUME III. BERKELEY, CAL., THURSDAY MARCH 5, 1896. NUMBER 97.

MRS. WOODS' STORY.

SHE TELLS OF HER RELATIONS WITH ANNIE PARKER

And Points to Her Seventeen Years' Residence in Oakland to Sustain Her Statements.

Mrs. Wood's Defense.

Mrs. John F. Wood, whose name was unpleasantly associated with that of Annie Parker, the Oakland dressmaker who committed suicide some weeks ago, has written a second letter to Oakland friends in which she speaks at length upon some phases of the scandal.

Mrs. Wood says: "How unjustly and cruelly I was spoken of as a conspirator in the whole matter. Many heartaches it has caused me, but I will not enter into details, as I have written before, and her body has since been found, which will justify me in what I have said. As to my correspondence with gentlemen, I wish to say it is entirely false. Miss Parker never credited anything of the kind, for she knew better, and I defy any one in Oakland, in my seventeen years with you, to bring forward one letter I have written of such a nature, or to say aught against my character.

"Harm can be made out of nothing if people are evil minded, and were it not for the knowledge that these hurtful things spoken by my husband were said when he was under the influence of liquor, I should reply differently, and I am sorry to say that when he was in that state I was spoken to and of very unkindly. Many things have been spoken that would not have been said had he been himself, as many of of my friends are aware. In this sad affair my heart has been too much grieved to answer, as Miss Parker and I were good friends. I helped her out of many difficulties in a business way. She was not capable of carrying the full burden of the business, and she many times told me so. I feel sure it was business troubles that caused her despondency and death, for she felt so badly that she was not able to make a success of it.

As to my letters found in her pocket it is strange they could not have been read and printed correctly. I never said she would use her influence on my husband toward me, and return to Baltimore. I did say if you have any influence, please do so in getting Mr. Wood to send my father's picture to me,' which was boxed before I left. My mother wanted it. I am sorry to say I never got it.

"I now ask my many dear friends in Oakland to remember me as I was, true, honest and upright, and even in my leaving Oakland I can procure the letters by friends to my people here of my condition."

Two Years or Four.

A large portion of the county officials of California have entered an organization which has been formed for the purpose of testing the County Government Act before the Supreme Court. The test will be based on the Fresno county case. The County Government Act provides that the tenure of office for all county officials shall be four years, except for those of Fresno county, which shall be two years. It has been held by some that this is special legislation, and therefore unconstitutional; but the various county officers contend that they based their election expenses on the expectation of a four years' term, and for that reason they will fight to sustain the County Government Act. County Clerk Jordan and Recorder Spear of Alameda county are leaders in the movement.

Charles A. Bailey now has his real estate office at 46 Market street, San Francisco, where he is prepared to sell Berkeley property on the most reasonable terms.

Miss Mabel Sharp, one of the University coeds, who has been confined to her room for some days, is improving very rapidly and will be able to be out in a few days, and again resume her studies.

The large combination car which is usually run on the West Berkeley local was taken off yesterday for repairs, and two emigrant sleeping cars substituted.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGregor of Benton street, Lorin, whose illness was chronicled in these columns some days ago, died yesterday morning.

Colonel Charles R. Greenleaf will deliver the third lecture in the Unitarian Church course in Stiles Hall next Friday evening. The subject will be "Humaninty in War."

The Adventists, who have been holding very successful meetings in Bailey Hall, near Dwight way station, have decided to organize a church society and hold regular services. H. H. Dexter and G. H. Reaser are in charge of evangelical work.

The residence of W. P. Ash, on Parker street caught fire yesterday from a defective flue, and caused damages to the extent of about $100. When the fire was discovered, an alarm was given and the Dwight way and Peralta Fire Company were quickly on the scene, and in a very few minutes had the fire put out.

The college girls have started a scheme to collect copies of all the photographs that were taken of the shoveling students during their recent days of toil. The plan is to put them in an album and present it to the library as a souvenir of Berkeley's first "Labor Day." A great number of ludicrous pictures were taken and the owners are requested to turn over copies of them to the girls.

District Attorney Snook, Judge S. G. Nye and other attorneys have consulted with County Clerk Jordan as to whether an elector can vote if his name is not on the new Great Register. Jordan is anxious to get a decision on the question, as elections will be held in Haywards, Berkeley, Pleasanton, and San Leandro during the coming month, and it will hardly be possible to complete the registration in all of these towns by that time.

Bert Wilmore and Abe Majors, the two boys who burglarized Mason's candy store on Shattuck avenue and who were sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Folsom State Prison are now safely lodged in that institution and are dressed in their suits of stripes. They will be employed as messengers from the Superintendent to the different foremen who have charge of the quarry gangs.

THEY TREMBLE.

OAKLAND AND SAN FRANCISCO LIBERTINES

Who Will be Exposd If They do not Pungle for Unholy Nights.

Sporting Men Nervous.

Rosso's Cottage, a well-known resort on Twelfth street dam and facing Lake Merritt, has been attached for debt and is in the hands of a keeper at present. Watson & Co., the wholesale liquor dealers, have an account against the place for something over $200, while other attachments have been put on which will bring the amount up to something like $500. The place did a good business, but the trouble has been that there were too many I. O. U. slips in the drawer.

The accounts are in the hands of Mr. Watson, and there is fear and trembling among the men about town who indulge in late hours, large bottles and other convivial things, that some of the names may be made public.

It is stated one Oaklander is down for $400 for good things had at "Rosso's," a well-known San Franciscan owes $500, and many other well-known names are on the books for good round sums. The bills will probably all be paid, but a very nervous feeling exists among the creditors.

Crushed Under Heavy Timbers.

A piledriver was upset in Temescal creek yesterday afternoon, where a new bridge across Shattuck avenue is being constructed. J. J. McGovern, foreman of the gang at work on the structure, was caught beneath the timbers and badly hurt. McGovern was standing on the platform of the driver when it toppled over, carrying him with it thirty feet below into the creek. Five other menhad warning in time to escape injury. The injured foremen was rescued and removed to the Receiving Hospital. He sustained serious internal injuries besides several broken ribs, and had cuts about the face. He was taken later to his home, 359 Tenth street.

A two-ton hammer was at the top of the frame when the accident occurred, and the heavy weight caused the machine to be topheavy.

Registers Old And New.

Lawyers raised a question yesterday in Oakland whether the cancellation of the Great Register would deprive persons from exercising their right in case they should desire to vote at any of such numerous local elections that will be held in the county towns before the new registration is completed. The difficulty of registering may, it is thought, prevent voters from getting their names upon the rolls. Several attorneys have expressed the opinion that the old register will avail for local elections, and that view County Clerk Jordan is desirous of testing. Steps will probably be taken to secure a judical opinion in the matter.

Spiritualists.

On Friday evening next a circle will be held in the Hann block by Dr. W. F. Barker. On this occassion he will be assisted by Mrs. Ladd Finnegan and Mrs. C. Mayo Steers, both of San Francisco and several other mediums. The doors will close at 8 o'clock p. m. Visitors must come early. An admission price of 25 cents will be charged. Spiritualists will find this meeting of more than ordinary interest. Skeptics are particularly invited to attend. The proceeds of the evening will be for the benefit of Dr. Barker, who will stay in Berkeley for sometime to come and give bi-weekly circles as announced in the daily papers.

Burglars are making themselves felt again, and it might be as well for Berkeleg people to see that their stores and residences are properly fasetned at night, so that these people may be kept out. They have not yet visited Berkeley, but they are working just a short distance outside of the Town limits.

A VERY CRUEL HART

HE REFUSES HER MEDICAL AID WHILE SICK

And Finally Places the Last Straw on her Burden by Nearly Choking Her to Death.

Wants a Divorce.

There is trouble in store for John Hart, head janitor of the University building. If all his wife, Mary Ann, says of him in a complaint in an action for divorce filed yesterday is true, he must be a demon in disguise.

She is seeking a legal separation on the ground of extreme cruelty and specifies many acts of brutal treatment on the part of the defendant extending over the six years of their married life.

In March, 1895, when she was about to be confined, Mrs. Hart alleges that her husband refused to allow her a physician, and would not hire a nurse to care for her. She says that in this state she lay suffering for six hours, until her groaning attracted the attention of her neighbors who came to her assistance.

Other minor acts of cruelty are mentioned, which Mrs. Hart claims she stood without protest or complaint for the sake of their little child, but when in February of this year Hart undertook to choke her to death after throwing her on the floor and beating her, she concluded that life with him was not worth living and certainly not safe.

Hart owns considerable property in Berkeley and to prevent him from disposing of it a restraining order has been issued out of the Superior Court. Snook & Church represent the plaintiff in action.

Killing Seals.

There is a law in this State against the killing of seals, yet some people are continually breaking that law, for almost every day or two, Poundmaster Lauterback, finds a dead one on the beach with the skin removed. He has buried about a dozen lately.

Those whose duty it is to attend to enforcing the law against killing seals should investigate this matter and bring the guilty parties to justice.

It is Said

That West Berkeley will do its share toward carrying the coming bond election.

That steps will be taken right away to induce the Board of Trustees to call another election for wharf bonds. 'Tis well.

That several people called today to see us experiment with the Cathode ray, but that our efforts in this line yesterday had wearied us considerable and we were not looking after x rays today consequently they were disappointed.

That the students of the University will in a few days meet as a whole and send a congratulating message to the students of Standford University, announcing their pleasure that Mrs. Standford won the suit that was commenced against her by the Government, and which assures the future permancy of the Standford University.

That N. T. Whiting will now register all persons that desire to vote at the coming bond election, and who are not now on the Great Register.

That the Alameda Telegram is making some untruthful and unpleasant statements against James Travers of Alameda Eucinal and Henry Dalton our efficient County Assessor.

That there is any number of entertainments and lodge meetings going on in Berkeley this evening.

That Miss Overman, Dr. Brown's converted companion, does not stand cross-examination very well. It is probable that the Grand Jury will take her in hand after the church investigation is over, and find out whether she has ever entered into any plots to blackmail other people besides Dr. Brown.

That a new real estate office has been opened in the rooms formerly occupied by Paine & Dickieson, on University avenue near Fifth street.

The Oakland Times is getting to be quite a sensational paper and in consequence a good many of the peope of that town who pose as moral men and good citizens, but who are not, are now shaking in their shoes for fear of exposure.

The voters are becoming awakened to the fact that they must be re-registered if they desire to vote at the coming bond election, and quite a number presented themselves for registration today.

Last evening it looked very much as though we would be visited by a heavy frost. Rain fell instead and much damage to fruit trees was thus averted. The sun has been out at intervals during the day, but it has been showery the most of the day.

The Alameda County Law Association held a banquet at the Macdonough restaurant last evening. Covers were placed for 40 persons, and a most enjoyable time was had. Prof. William Carey Jones of Berkeley, who is an honorary member of the Association, was unavoidedly absent.

Samuel Jones and Charles S. Givens have deeded to the Town of Berkeley, a lot on the West line of College avenue, at the southeast corner of lands owned by them, which would be the center line of Russell street if that street were opened to a width of 60 feet. This deed is given on condition that Russell street be opened and extended, and the land is a part of the Hillegass estate.

WILD SCENES IN THE ITALIAN CABINET TODAY.

Three Hundred Tons of Armor Shipped to Russia from the U. S.

Special dispatches to the GAZETTE.

A Wild Scene.

Rome, Mar. 4.—Long before the opening of the Chamber of Deputies today enormous crowds thronged the vicinity. The streets were patrolled by troops, who experienced difficulty in making way through the packed thoroughfares.

The sitting of the Chamber was of the wildest character, the uproar beginning as soon as it was called to order.

Signor Crispi announced the resignation of the Cabinet, which was received with prolonged and passionate applause. The members of the extreme left shouted insults at Signor Crispi, but the Premier preserved his temper. When able to obtain a hearing, he declared with great firmness that the Ministry would retain their offices until their successors had been nominated.

Armor for Russia.

Bethlehem, Pa., Mar. 5.—The Bethlehem Iron Company last night made a shipment of 300 tons of side armor for the battle ship Sebastopol to Russia, and a large shipment of gun material to the Washington Navy Yard. The ordinance works are running at their full capacity.

It's An Outrage.

Chicago, March, 5.—When the persons indicted on the charge of maintaining and being employed in bucket shops were given bonds yesterday before Judge Goggin, the Judge stopped court and addressed every one in the room as follows:

"This thing of the Civic Federation, or combination or whatever it is, indicting clerks and young women who are endeavoring to make an honest livelihood by their skill is an outrage against decency and civilization, if such a thing as civilization exists, and I am beg nning to doubt it.

"I shall release the ladies in this case without bail and upon their recognizance and if they will have a lawyer in court tomorrow I will quash the indictments against them. I think the Grand Jury that indicted these young ladies should be itself indicted."

An Unlucky Number.

St. Louis, Mo., March 5—A. K. McDonald, a copyist in the Recorders' office, died last Saturday. When he was stricken by the fatal illness McDonald was working on record book 1313; he was engaged in entering deed 13, which was filed February 13th, he was buried by Undertaker Cullinane, whose place of business is at 1313 North Jefferson avenue The superstitiously inclined will construe these circumstances into an evidence of fatality.

Confiscated Bloomers.

San Francisco, March 5.—The steamer Australia, which arrived this morning from Honolulu, had two interesting passengers abroad. They were known as the "bloomer girls," and had good reason to be so recognized. They are evidently of Spanish extraction, and passed by the names of Mrs. G. Rodriquez and Miss A. Gonzalves. They were arrested in Honolulu for smuggling opium.

They were passengers on the Australia's last trip and, so it is said, wore bloomers for smuggling purposes.

Some of the ship's officers say they they carried no less than sixty-nine tins of opium in packets in the folds of their bloomers, which they, of course, wore underneath their skirts. The Custom house inspectors of Honolulu arrested the women as soon as they reached port, and it was shown that they wore the peculiarly constructed trousers, but no opium was found. They had clearly outwitted the inspectors or else innocent. They were tried by the Circuit Court of Hawaii and acquitted.

They returned to San Francisco happy in the knowledge that they escaped conviction, but seemed worried to think that their bloomers had been confiscated.

FOR THE SCHOOLS.

The question of voting school bonds is once more before the people of Berkeley, and it is sincerely hoped that this time they will carry, and for several reasons. In the first place the erection of a costly high school, to which many citizens and voters objected, has been entirely eliminated from this proposition, secondly the amount called for this time is but one half of the amount called for before. Thirdly, a great many of our citizens have since the last election investigated the question, and found that the lack of school accommodations had not been overdrawn, that as a matter of fact the Berkeley schools are in a most deplorable condition.

At the Kellogg school it is so overcrowded that only a portion of the scholars can recite at one time. In the meantime the others have to do their studying in the hall ways or in the sheds out side. This is not conducive to good discipline, nor to health, and will result in a great loss of time to scholars who are trying to advance themselves, and who want to finish during the term for which they entered. It also does not do justice to the teachers, who cannot be expected to promote scholars, when they can give them but half time and half the attention that they require. This same condition of affairs applies with the same force to the North Berkeley and the Lorin schools, and the people of those sections should see that a full vote instead of a two thirds majority vote is cast in favor of the bonds.

In West Berkeley, while this same crowded condition of the school does not exist, the San Pablo avenue school building is not fit for the housing of children. The building is very old, and the wind whistles through it in the same manner that it does through a patriarch's whiskers. When it rains there is not a room in the building that does not leak. Were the building in any other place except Berkeley it would have been condemned long ago, and as it is the present Board of Education will be compelled before long to condemn it.

In order that the wrongs that we have alluded to may be remedied and the schools be put upon a proper basis for the education of our children without hindrance, the Board of School Directors have shown good judgment in calling for the coming bond election.

They have not asked for one dollar more than is necessary and they have sought to eliminate everything that was objectionable in the last call. Instead of having the bonds run for 40 years, to which a great deal of objection was made during the last call, they have set the time for 10 years. Instead of calling for money to build a High School, to which objection was made, they have cut that out entirely. They have and will again make public the exact condition of the schools, and the urgent need of new school buildings. They are spending their own time and neglecting their own business affairs to secure these necessary improvements in regard to the schools of Berkeley, and the citizens of Berkeley should stand by them to a man. The only way to do it is by going to the polls on April 4th and voting yes in favor of bonds.

At the recent election for bonds in the sum of $120,000, with all the opposition that was manifested, the people of Berkeley by a trifle less than a two-thirds majority, declared that they were in favor of the bonds and the new school buildings, and we believe that this time they will do so by far more than the necessary two-thirds. It is every man's duty to go to the polls and vote, even though he does have to miss the train that he usually takes, or has to come home a train earlier. Had they done so at the election last month the bonds would have carried, and this coming election would have been unnecessary.

Some people have the idea that this time the proposition needs only a majority vote. This is erroneous, and is caused by the talk in favor of voting bonds to be paid for by a direct tax. In that case only a majority vote would have been necessary. In the present case it takes a two-thirds vote to carry the measure, and it is the duty of every citizen to see that the bonds do get the necessary two-thirds vote.

It is also necessary that every citizen of Berkeley who has not been registered since the 17th day of February have his name on the register before the 19th day of March. It will thus be seen that the time for is very short and must necessarily be attended to at once.

There is some question as to whether or not the old register can be used, and the County Clerk will have that settled by the Attorney General as soon as possible. This should not deter any one from registering however for in the event that the old register could not be used, it would then be too late to get on the new one.

AN UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR.

In the telegraphic dispatches of the GAZETTE last evening, appeared a dispatch stating that P. Salisbury had called at the Police Court of San Francisco, in the morning and surrendered himself, stating that he was the person who shot the young man McCarthy on the previous day. We were not aware when the dispatch was received at this office that the Mr. Salisbury mentioned in the article was our fellow townsman P. Salisbury, who resides on Addison street, Berkeley. This morning however, we learn that he is the gentleman. Mr. Salisbury has made a clear honest statement of the occurrence and in the light of what has happened to him in the past, we do not think that he will be put to much trouble over the affair, and further that he was in a measure justified in his act.

Mr. Salisbury states that he was out on Tuesday attending to his collections and in every section of the city he had been unmercifully pelted with snow balls. When he was approaching the corner of Twenty-second and Folsom street, he saw a number of men and boys pelting a teamster ahead of him. As he approached the corner he found the people prepared to give him the same reception that they had just given the teamster. He pulled his pistol and warned them that if they fired at him he would fire at them. He then drove ahead and had gone but a little distance when a snowball struck him in the eye breaking his glasses.

He attempted to fire his pistol in the air but a lurch of the buggy caused his pistol to strike a rod in the top and the pistol was discharged in the direction of his tormentors instead of in the air.

Some nine years ago Mr. Salisbury went through the same experience as on Tuesday and at that time, he was struck in the eye with a snowball which drove some of the glass from his glasses into the eye causing him to be laid up for several weeks, and almost losing his eye. When he was struck this time in the same place, and his glasses again broken he became excited. From the above statement which is undoubtedly true, Mr. Salisbury can not be blamed for his act, and his many friends in Berkeley trust that he will be speedily acquitted.

Assessor's Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax Notice.

Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax must be paid on demand.

Oakland, Mar. 2nd, 1896.

Notice is hereby given that the State Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax for two dollars each for the year 1896 is now due and payable at my office, Room one, Court House, or to a Deputy Assessor.

Sec. 3839 of the Political Code reads as follows:

Every male inhabitant of the State over twenty-one and under sixty years of age, except paupers, insane persons and Indians, must annually pay a Poll Tax of two dollars, provided the same be paid between the then it shall be three dollars.

First Monday in March and the First Monday in July,

Sec. 3846 of the Political Code makes it the duty of the Assessor to remind Poll Tax of every person liable therefor, and on the neglect or refusal of such person to pay, he must collect by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by such person.

Under Sections 429 to 435 every person who refuses to give his own name or the name of any person in his employ, or who in any manner obstructs the Assessor or any of his deputies in the collection of the State Poll Tax, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to a fine of $500 or imprisonment in the County Jail, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Only those persons under twenty-one or over sixty years of age are exempt. Poll tax must be paid on demand.

The same laws apply to the collection of Road Poll Tax as to the collection of State Poll Tax.

CARRIES NEITHER PURSE NOR SCRIP.

Let Love alone. He is divinely led,
And feels the way his veiled eyes do not see.
No throne nor principalities hath he,
Nor any place to lay his royal head.
No care hath he about his daily bread;
He reeks not whether he be bond or free;
But, full of faith and sweet security,
He goes forth cheerily to woo and wed.

For Love believes that all God hath is his,
Freely he takes, freely he gives away,
With melting, mingling touch of hand and lip.
Let Love alone. He claimeth all there is.
The whole world trembles with his potent sway,
The king who carries neither purse nor scrip.

SLAVE RAIDS IN AFRICA.

More Than a Hundred Villages Destroyed In One Campaign.

As we approached the falls we saw that the river banks had been depopulated and the villages were in ashes. We passed dead bodies floating in the river. Canoes were standing on end like hollowed columns; crowds of fugitives were afloat and hiding among the ready islands. These were all signs of a general terror, but we could get no information of its character. Vague ideas of an invasion from some savage tribe came to our minds, and now and then we had a misgiving that there must be Arab slavers in the neighborhood.

Continuing our ascent, on the third day we came in sight of a huge Arab camp on the right bank, and before long we discovered that the Arabs of Nyangwe (Livingstone's farthest point), having heard the most exaggerated reports of our successful descent of the Kongo in 1877, had hastened after us to reap a harvest of ivory and slaves. They had been too successful. Over 118 villages had been destroyed below Stanley falls alone, a rich plunder of ivory was in their camp, and several hundred slaves, old and young, were herded like goats and heavily fettered in the slave pen. It then appeared that while we had been negotiating with the negro chiefs along the river, making roads, building stations and hauling steamers overland, the Arabs of Nyangwe had been coming down the river, laying the country waste. We had at last met, about 50 miles below the falls. A glance at the scenes of the camp was sufficient to reveal what a future awaited the Kongo valley had we not conceived the project of opening the river to civilizing influences. There was not a moment to lose. We had no authority to open fire on the miscreants. They were subjects of the Prince of Zanzibar, who was a protege of England, and to plunge into hostilities with them might possibly involve us in serious complications. But while we dared not use force we believed that by continuing the same system we had found so successful with the native chiefs we could check the audacity of the slavers by our mere presence among them. After some days spent in cautious and friendly negotiations with the Arabs we were permitted to establish a station at the falls, and after seeing it well advanced we turned the prows of our steamers down river toward Leopoldville.—Henry M. Stanley in Century.

No Kick Coming.

One day when a coupe driven along Broadway at the rate of ten miles an hour had come within a hairbreadth of running me down I followed it up for three or four blocks until it came to a halt beside the curbstone.

"Do you know," I said to the driver, who grinned as he saw me approach, "that you nearly ran me down ten minutes ago?"

"Yes, sir," he promptly replied.

"You had me in between your carriage and a cable car, and it was a close call."

"Yes, it was, sir."

"You didn't even try to pull up your horse," I persisted.

"No, sir."

"Then you didn't care whether you ran me down or not?"

"No, sir."

"Well, that's cool! Are you in the habit of killing people who may be crossing the street as you come along?"

"Not in the habit, no, sir. You see, it was this way. A gent picks me up at the Fifth Avenue and wants to git down to the Star theater in five minutes. I can't git him there in five, but I can in eight if there isn't a block and the wheels stay on, and I does it and gets 50 cents extra."

"But where do I come in?"

"You? Why, you escaped with your life, and there's no kick coming to you. Wait till you are run down and killed and then let the widdy do the kickin."

Rough on the Assembly.

Sir Herbert Maxwell, M. P., retells a tale about the lord high commissionership of the general assembly of the Church of Scotland. When Mr. Disraeli was forming his administration in 1874, a certain noble earl, noted, in addition to many estimable qualities, for his facundity of forcible expletive, expressed a strong desire to become master of the buckhounds. "Well," said Disraeli, "I had myself thought of that post for your lordship, but the truth is that her majesty is very particular about the language used in the hunting field, so I have determined to submit your name for her approval as lord high commissioner to the general assembly!" And to that post he was appointed accordingly.

The Oldest Known.

A French medical paper prints what is believed to be the oldest known medical recipe. It is a tonic for the hair, and its date is 4000 B. C. It was prepared for an Egyptian queen and required dogs' paws and asses' hoofs to be boiled with dates in oil.

Gold, silver, copper, iron, tin, lead, mercury, sulphur, carbon, antimony, bismuth and zinc were the only minerals known at the time of the discovery of America.

The ancients, according to Pliny, made a very excellent sympathetic ink, using new milk as the basis.

FOUNDING THE KONGO STATE.

Explorer Stanley Tells In Brief the Story of the Great Enterprise.

During my descent of the Kongo I had revolved over and over in my mind the question of the destiny of the river. Seated at the prow of my boat, which led our flotilla, and daily watching the river developing itself, I was preoccupied with these thoughts every leisure moment. There was, it seemed to me, no other power but England that could interest itself with this part of Africa, and, as I said, there was not a single white man in possession of any portion of the equatorial belt except at the mouth of the Kongo, where a few traders had gathered. But despite the numerous addresses in England upon this subject I failed to awaken more than a geographical interest in equatorial Africa. The terror of the African climate in general was too strong upon everybody.

Elsewhere, however, the reports of my addresses in the English newspapers were taking effect. After nearly nine months' busy life in England the king of the Belgians invited me to visit him, and I was then informed of his strong inclination to undertake for Africa what I had been so strenuously advising Englishmen to do. He was already president of the African International association, which was about to set on foot a humanitarian enterprise from the east coast, and he led me to understand that if I were free from other engagements he would like to employ me in opening the Kongo basin to European influence and civilization.

It was my opinion that the best way of setting about the work was to construct a light surface railway which should skirt the cataracts of the lower Kongo and then to launch steamers on the upper waters, which I estimated would furnish about 6,000 miles of navigation. We argued about this matter from August to December, 1878. The best Belgian engineers were consulted, but after the most elaborate calculations as to cost it was finally decided that as the expense would be great we should content ourselves with making wagon roads past the cataracts and build a series of military stations for the protection of caravans, and that the annual expenditure should not exceed $60,000.

SAVED BY A CAT.

How a Bashful Young Man at Last Got a Spoon.

There is a man, well known in judicial circles as one of the most polished and courtly of gentlemen, who tells the following story:

He had not, in his early youth, those advantages which tend to produce ease of manner. When about 15, he was much in love with a neighbor's daughter, and, according to his statement, was at this time nearly 6 feet tall, ungainly, shy and with the proverbial ubiquitous hands and feet.

One Sunday he was at dinner with his rosy cheeked sweetheart, and when the guests had been served with soup the youth discovered that he had no spoon. He grew red in the face and was in an agony of mortification and dismay. If he asked for a spoon, he felt sure every one would look at him; if he did not eat his soup, his hostess would be sure to remark it. What was he to do? He felt his hands growing larger and more in the way than ever, and his feet caused him untold emotion by absolutely refusing to go under his chair.

Great beads of perspiration stood out on his face and trickled down like rain. The situation was becoming unendurable when a terrified cat, pursued by a small but game terrier, rushed into the room and sprang upon the table. The guests jumped up, and in the general confusion the embarrassed youth retained his seat, and turning to the servant remarked calmly, "I'll have a spoon, please."—Washington Times.
